

Please do not weaken the do not call rules! After a long work day I look forward to some peaceful, uninterrupted time at home. As for businesses being able to contact customers for 18 months after the customer has chosen to discontinue service from the business, I think the customer should be given credit for having made a conscious, informed decision to discontinue with the ability to recontact the business on their own should they change their minds. I view the business doing the contacting (for 18 months!) as a form of harrassment.